

St. Luke Mariners Plan Hawaii Salute

Seahorses of St. Luke's Presbyterian Church of Rolling Hills will salute Hawaii at their first fleet activity, a luau to be held in the Fellowship hall at the St. Andrew's church in Redondo Beach tomorrow evening.

"Seahorses" is the name chosen by the new Presbyterian Mariners, an organization of couples of the church.

The organization is made up of eight groups, or ships, composing a fleet. Each ship meets monthly and fleet meetings are held every three months.

Admirals of the Fleet Mr. and Mrs. William Hanson and vice admirals, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Collins are in charge of the luau.

Decorations will include indoor waterfalls with many pools, plus Easter Island statues, palm trees, mountains of flowers and lighting effects. Orchid leis will be flown in from Hawaii.

The two ships planning the decorations are Los Pescadores and Icebreakers. Skippers are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Tilletson and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Gardner.

Wally Chumn and the Islanders have been engaged to prepare and serve the food which features the ceremonial "Kalua pig." The Islanders will also provide entertainment which includes native dancers, Hula instructions and an evening of dancing.

The motto of the Mariners group is "Jesus Christ, our pilot; The Bible, our compass, the Church, our anchor."

Foursome

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Franklin and Dr. and Mrs. Robert A. Horstman were among the localities who recently dined together at the Plush Horse Restaurant.

roll over his head and he wouldn't budge. I've even tried to pull him off the sofa and get him to the bed but he weighs 210 pounds.

Lately he's been mad as a hornet when he gets up in the morning and finds he's in the living room. He says his back kills him because the sofa is lumpy. Also his feet hurt because sometimes he falls asleep with his shoes on. When I tell him I tried to get him to the bedroom he says he doesn't believe it. This is a real problem. What can I do?—100 POUND WIFE

Dear 100: Try to get it across to this "jolly type" that he isn't "falling asleep"—he's passing out. Suggest he cut down the intake of hops. Tell him you aren't going to break your back trying to lug him into the bedroom, so he can forget about that.

You could, however, remove his shoes — and have the lumpy sofa reupholstered.

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is being written by a group of junior high school girls. We are all 13 years old. Please understand we aren't criticizing anybody. We just want to help a girl in our class.

Nobody wants to locker with this girl in gym or even sit next to her in class because she's so careless about personal habits. To be blunt, she doesn't use soap and water.

Should we send her an unsigned letter or invite her to have a soda with us after school and tell her to her face? —WANT TO HELP

Dear Girls: Don't send an unsigned letter, and please spare her a meeting arranged for this purpose. Ask the gym teacher to have a talk with the

Dignitaries Here For Annual CDA Breakfast

An outstanding visitor in Torrance Sunday was Mrs. Patrick Lewis of Los Angeles, national director of the Catholic Daughters of America, a guest of Court St. Catherine at its fourteenth annual corporate communion and breakfast. Mrs. Paul Haberstroh of Los Angeles, state monitor, and several other dignitaries were also among the guests who attended mass at Nativity Catholic Church and adjourned to the Hacienda restaurant in San Pedro for breakfast and program.

An interesting resume of the organization's charities on a national scale was given by Mrs. Lewis when she spoke to the group. Mentioned were specialized training of fifty-five nuns for work with handicapped children, donation of the five altars in the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception being constructed in Washington, D. C., and the new World Mission program. Long active in the mission field in this country, including the education of priests for this work, the CDA organization nationally has inaugurated a new mission program which is world-wide in scope. Mrs. Lewis recently attended a meeting in Chicago with other national officers of the Catholic Daughters of America.

In a less serious vein, Mrs. Lewis chided the local group for always having this annual affair on the morning daylight savings time goes into effect. A state officer when Court St. Catherine was instituted fourteen years ago, Mrs. Lewis was present at that time and over the years has been a welcome guest on various occasions.

Mrs. Don Cowden, junior past regent of the local court, was chairman for Sunday's affair, and presided at the breakfast and program. A word of welcome was given by the grand regent, Mrs. Laurence Derouin, and others who extended greetings included Mrs. Haberstroh, state monitor; Mrs. Lyle Peters of Redondo Beach, district deputy; Mrs. Edward Becker of the board of directors of Camp Teresita Pines, from Los Angeles; Mrs. William Clifton of Long Beach and Miss Helene Thompson of Pasadena, past district deputies. The past regents of the local court were introduced, as were Mrs. Frank H. Forester and Mrs. J. J. MacDonald, who served as district deputies for other courts in the Los Angeles area.

Nature itself provides sufficient "decoration" in this setting, with its view of the harbor, but to make note of the CDA colors of purple and gold, there was an arrangement of Dutch iris, stock and yellow daisies at the speakers' table, and the programs and place cards were of gold.

Assisting Mrs. Cowden with arrangements for the breakfast were Mmes. Frank H. Forester, Harry L. Hamilton, Howard M. Schott, George Shelton, Theresa Finlayson, Joseph Lucas and Miss Marie Isley.
